We hope that your child can use this time to hone his or her skills as a stringed instrument player. With so many other distractions removed from daily life, we hope that they may find the true goal of becoming a musician is enjoying music for its own sake. Since most schools have switched over to online learning, we also recommend listening to classical music as they do their work. Many studies show the correlation between listening to classical music and cognitive development. This is also an excellent way to develop appreciation for different composers and styles.

Our goal is to be able to continue to serve our customers as best as possible through this crisis. As a small business, we understand the difficulties that many of our customers are experiencing. The safety and well-being of our customers, employees and their families remain in our thoughts and prayers. We appreciate your continued support as a local business during these difficult times. Lisle Violin Shop is committed to serving our customers and will continue to do so in the future.

We will be posting updates on our website at www.violins.com as well as on our Facebook and Instagram pages regarding our status and reopening dates.
